Hankow Hears Rumor Of Wu Pei-fu Planning To Join Dr. Sun

(Kuo Wen News Agency)

Canton, Nov. 16.—President Sun Yat-sen left Wuchow for Kueilin yesterday. On the previous day, a large party of his men went ahead, occupying 30 steamers and 70 native boats.

President Sun was accompanied by General Hsu Tsung-chih, for whom he waited until yesterday morning. They expect to remain there for ten days.

The troops of General Hsu and General Li Fok-lum have already been sent to Kueilin. The troops of Generals Wang Ta-wei, Hu Ying, and Hsu Chi have been stationed at various places en route to afford protection to the President.

WU TO JOIN SUN?

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, Nov. 10.—A persistent rumor is circulating in foreign circles in Hankow today that there is a possibility of Wu Pei-fu being in league with the anti-Peking expedition of Dr. Sun Yat-sen. It is further rumored that the moment Dr. Sun's campaign touches Hankow or Hunan, Wu Pei-fu will join hands with the Canton forces in their march toward Peking, and smash the present government altogether.

This rumor also explains that after the complete upsetting of the 'pretenders' government at Peking, Wu Pei-fu will come into the limelight, possibly in company with General Chen Chiung-ming, to establish a truly stable and representative government in China. The origin of the rumor seems to be inaccessible to all means of discovery and confirmation.

WU ASKS THREE MILLIONS

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, Nov. 12.—The chairmen of the Chinese Chambers of Commerce at Hankow and Wuchang were requested by General Wu Pei-fu, while he was in Hankow, to advance $3,000,000 to meet his outstanding military debts. The Finance Bureau and the Hupeh Tuchun of Wuchang were also requested by Wu to help in the matter.

Before his departure for Loyang enroute to Paoting, General Wu is stated to have succeeded in getting $1,700,000 from Hankow and Wuchang, $530,000 from the Hupeh provincial treasury, $300,000 from the Salt Bank and the Yu Sang Bank of Hankow, $70,000 from Tuchun Hsiao Yao-nan, $500,000 from the Hankow Chamber of Commerce, and $300,000 from the Wuchang Chamber. Besides these loans, General Wu is said to have advised the Peking government that in view of the possibility of new troubles in China and therefore greater need for troops, he would be obliged to seize the receipts of the southern section of the Peking-Hankow line.

General Wu Pei-fu has also decided to raise the salt taxations in Hupeh province so as to increase the salt revenue. Meantime, he proposed to change the cash system in salt revenue collection to a dollar basis, which will mean considerable increase of salt revenues from this province. The provincial Assembly of Wuchang, however, has objected to this proposal, and has filed a protest against more excessive taxation and change from a copper cash system into a dollar basis.

Prior to his departure from Hankow by train for the North, General Wu had a talk with Tuchun Hsiao Yao-nan.

In the course of discussion, General Wu instructed Tuchun Hsiao to handle the delicate political situations in Szechuen and Hunan with care and wisdom, and wire him for advice. Tuchun Hsiao was also urged to instruct General Sun Chuan-fang and General Chang Fu-lai to defend the Szechuen-Hupeh and Hunan-Hupeh frontiers repectively.

Former Senator Is Guilty Of Robbery; To Serve 6 Years

(Special To The China Press)

Chicago, Nov. 14.—"Big Tim" Murphy, labor leader and former state senator, who was convicted in the federal court here of having engineered the $325,000 Dearborn Station mail robbery, was today sentenced to six years' imprisonment at Fort Leavenworth and a fine of $30,000. Two accomplices received four years each and were fined $20,000. A fourth man got two years and a $10,000 fine.

"Big Tim" has been notorious in Chicago's warring labor factions for many years. Following the slaying of Maurice ("Mossy") Enright, leader of an opposition labor faction, "Big Tim" was taken into custody. After several months in jail however, the case fell through and "Big Tim" and his alleged accomplices were released.

A short time later, Chicago was thrilled by a carefully engineered mail robbery at Pullman, a suburb on the southwest side, in which a $90,000 money shipment from a loop bank was stolen. There followed the Dearborn Station mail robbery.

After months of investigation, federal operatives announced themselves as satisfied that "Big Tim" had had a part in both crimes. He was arrested and indicted on both charges by the federal grand jury. The Pullman mail robbery indictment is still pending against him.

Famine Relief Campaign To Succor Five Provinces Is Inaugurated At Dinner

Leading Officials And Business Men Meet To Organise Chinese-Foreign Committee For Emergency Created By Floods

At the Chinese Chamber of Commerce Building last night a large gathering of Chinese and foreigners representing the official, commercial, educational and ecclesiastical elements of Shanghai attended the inauguration dinner of the Chinese-Foreign Famine Relief Committee in aid of the flood sufferers in Kiangsu, Chekiang, Anhwei, Shantung and Hupeh.

Various speeches were given by representatives of the Tuchuns and Civil Governors of the Provinces of Kiangsu, Anhui, Chekiang and Hupeh. General Ho Feng-lin presided.

Among the guests were delegates from the relief societies in Peking, Tientsin, Honan, Tsinan, Hankow, whose object in coming to Shanghai is to form a central organisation for co-ordinating the efforts of relief work so as to achieve the maximum in results.

HO EXTENDS WELCOME

When the dinner was well under way, Military Governor Ho Feng-lin who presided, made a brief address of welcome in which he extolled the splendid work done by the Chinese-Foreign Famine Relief Society, acting in conjunction with the other International Famine Relief Societies. He expressed his deep admiration for the philanthropic spirit shown by the Chinese and foreign communities last year when five Northern provinces were famine-stricken and appealed for generous support in the present drive.

General Ho's address was followed by the following speeches:

Mr. Yen, representing the Tuchun and Civil Governor of Kiangsu, explained that pressure of duties has prevented both Tuchun Chi and Governor Wang from coming. He saw in the fine organisation for the effort of the various relief societies the possibility of putting an eventual check on the outbreak of famines. But the present distress is such that funds from foreign and Chinese sources will be needed to make the campaign a complete success.

Chang Yu-chun, Associate-Director of the Relief Work in Anhui offered greetings on behalf of Tuchun Chang Wen-sheng of Anhui, and assured prospective benefactors of the everlasting gratitude of the people of Anhui for the relief which they so urgently need.

VILLAGES WIPED OUT

Ma Tsen-hsien, Executive Secretary of the Anhui Famine Relief Bureau, representing Civil Governor Hsu Shih-yin, in the course of his address on behalf of Governor Hsu, spoke as follows:

"Ever since last summer it has rained continuously in the districts North of the Huai River and as a consequence all the rivers such as the Hwai, the Sze, the Ko, the Chi, the Fei, the To, the Kwai and the Tsi have overflowed their banks. As the current was so strong the dykes all along the Hwai river were broken, and houses, animals and foodstuffs and, in fine, everything, was washed away. Reports have been received that many villages with hundreds of families were swept away. Not a living being could be seen and what we did see was nothing but the bodies of the drowned, flowing down the stream.

"I should like also to mention that the people affected are mostly farmers. Once deprived of their means of livelihood, the old and weak ones would perish but the young men are liable to become highway robbers, which would bring about another difficult problem. The harvest is not promising and the price of rice and other things has risen rapidly, while commercial activities are seriously affected."

Mr. Chang, representing the Tuchun and Civil Governor of Chekiang, delivered a message of greetings and wished the famine relief work the fullest degree of success.

The General Secretary, Mr. Y. K. Li, then read the list of names of the honorary chairmen, executive officers and governing board of the organisation.

The list follows:

French Council To Visit Auto Show Ground Monday

The French Municipal Council will visit the automobile show buildings at Verdun Gardens in a body next Monday afternoon, to pass judgment on the structures that have been erected there for the motor exhibition which opens a week from Saturday. The French authorities laid down certain rules and regulations to insure the safety of the crowds that will visit the auto show, and they desire to make sure that these have been fully complied with before giving their final approval.

H. S. Honigsberg, chairman of the house committee, appointed a former American marine as police chief of the automobile show yesterday, with instructions to employ a staff of watchmen to guard the show, and coolies to make it a "Spotless Town." The new chief went on the job at once, much to the disgust of the hundreds of Chinese carpenters, fitters and coolies who are at work on the grounds, for the first official order from "police headquarters" was that all smoking should stop immediately.

Chairman Friedman, of the entertainment committee, announced yesterday that he had added a few more stars to the already large and brilliant array of talent that he is signing up for the cabaret features that are to be part of the nightly program in the big dancing pavilion. Mr. Friedman said that his entertainers were rehearsing daily, and that all would be in readiness for some first class performances when the big show opens on November 26.

With most of the electric lights in place, the automobile show is almost as busy at night as in the day time, as many of the exhibitors have double shifts at work installing their displays and getting ready for the show.

Manager Ellis, of the Carlton, said yesterday that 125 waiters, in addition to the Carlton's regular staff, would be on the job every afternoon and evening in the dancing pavilion, and that visitors to both the tea dances and the evening entertainments would have everything that could be desired in the way of service.

Runs On Peking Banks Proceed; All Being Paid

(Staff Wire To The China Press)

Peking, Nov. 16 (3:35 p.m.)—The runs on the Bank of China and the Bank of Communications both here and in Tientsin are proceeding, long queues of depositors and note holders being paid as rapidly as may be. The Bank of China has announced its ability to stand the severest possible call on it for specie.

The Peking Bankers' Club is in session at this moment devising means to assist the two banks. Foreign bankers here say that the banks reserves are sufficient and are the normal reserves ordinarily carried by banks.

The cash-shops have suspended business and are storing silver money away which is causing apprehension among the people who in turn are storing up food. Tradesmen are refusing all Chinese bank-notes regardless of the bank of issue.

An influx into the legation quarter is feared by some but the prevailing conservative opinion is that nothing drastic will come about aside from an extreme tightness in both silver and copper currency that may last through the New Year season.

Some believe, they say, that the runs were immediately inspired by a report that the banks were unable to meet cheques. This rumor is said to have arisen from the refusal of the banks to honor certain overdrafts of the Ministry of Finance.

Officials of the Bank of China said last night that rumors of looting of the Peking banks had no foundation so far as they could learn. They had no fear of a run on the bank here, saying that their stock of sycee, bar-silver and silver dollars in their vaults was more than enough to meet any demand that might be made.

"I have heard nothing from Peking that would indicate a robbery of our bank there," said Manager Sung. "The only telegram that we have received from the office there, was a business wire asking us to pay a certain sum to a customer here."

Mr. Sung, when questioned further in regard to the rumors of looting current in Shanghai, yesterday, stated that in his opinion, the report of an armed robbery of the Peking bank had not been substantiated. "However, I cannot make any official statement until I hear directly from Peking," he said.

BANKERS ARE AGITATED

Owing to the financial disturbances caused by cashing bank notes at Peking, Hankow, and of late reports in Kiukiang and Wuhu as well, there is much agitation in the local Chinese financial circles. According to the opinion of one of the leading Chinese Bankers here, Shanghai has been under constant fear of financial collapse ever since the great influx of various exchanges, but he expresses the hope that the Chinese Bankers' Association and the leading firms here will be amply prepared against anything unexpected.

FEAR RUN IN TIENTSIN

Peking, Nov. 16. — Popular nervousness resulting from the disorganisation in the Ministry of Finance is causing much apprehension regarding the solidarity of Chinese banks, particularly those in Tientsin which recently made loans to the Ministry.

Runs on Tientsin banks are expected hourly.

Bank of China notes issued in Tientsin are universally refused by Peking cash shops and money changers. These notes have been widely circulated in the capital. Notes issued by the head office of the Bank of China in Peking are being substituted. The Peking notes had previously been withdrawn from circulation following their depreciation.

SEVERAL LAKHS CASHED

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 16.—Sensational rumors, circulated yesterday afternoon, created a run on the Banks of China and Communications, which is continued today. Notes to the value of several lakhs were presented and paid yesterday afternoon, the Banks keeping open long after the closing hour in order to meet the demands.

The Banks are still cashing notes which are being presented principally by small holders. Cash-shops in many instances have been forced to suspend payment owing to their running out of silver but as the Banks are still paying out the market has remained steady and the situation is not considered to be serious.

The Bankers' Association is supporting the harassed banks and intends to withdraw its reserves from the foreign banks if necessary. A special meeting of representatives of all the banks in the Association is being held this afternoon with a view to discussing the situation while the police and gendarmerie are posting notices urging the people not to be deceived by false rumors.

While the origin of the rumors has not been definitely ascertained, a suspicion is entertained that these reports were deliberately circulated by "a certain politician who recently left the Cabinet."

ABOLISH SUBMARINES BRITISH URGE UPON THE ARMS CONFERENCE

End The Stealthy Terror That Stabs In The Dark Is Proposal Put Before The Conference—Slower Scrapping Of Warships Also Preferred And More Elastic Replacement Program

JAPAN ASKS NO NAVY EQUALITY

France Prepares To Bring Up Land Armaments At Coming Session While Nipponese Are Ready To Start Pacific Problems—Quiet But Dynamitic

BY JABIN HSU
(Staff Correspondent of China Press)

Washington, Nov. 15.—Outlaw the submarine is the bombshell which Britain tossed into the Disarmament Conference at its second session today.

"Let us have no more of this stealthy assassin that creeps up to stab brave men in the back," and "If we are to stop building capital ships, let us also stop the submarine as a means of navy warfare, once and for all."

Such were the outstanding ideas in the British proposal which otherwise stands closely by that of Secretary Hughes except in the matter of replacements which the British would have rather more elastic than at first suggested.

The Japanese have indicated that some modifications in Secretary Hughes' plan would suit them but Admiral Baron Kato has assured the Assembly that Japan did not desire or expect a Navy equally those of Britain and America.

Premier Briand has announced that he will present the matter of land armaments at the coming session of the Conference when Japan probably will bring up certain Pacific problems for solution. Therefore more surprises are expected and while the atmosphere has been clear down to now, it might be said to be charged with hidden dynamite.

Chorus Of Praise Now Mixed With Quite Some Criticism

(Trans-Pacific Public Ledger—China Press Exclusive Service)

Tokio, Nov. 16.—The chorus of praise with which the Japanese press and public greeted Secretary of State Hughes' proposals is now tempered by criticism as to details since further information from Washington and a study of home conditions brings home the realisation of the real meaning of the proposed agreement.

The general tone of the comment on the part of both the officials and the press is highly favorable, and on all sides are heard expressions of hope that the proposals will prevail "in principle."

Before they receive unqualified approval several changes are wanted, chiefly concerning the relative strengths of the American and Japanese navies.

Inquiries in official quarters emphasise more than any other fact, the dominating position which Admiral Baron Kato now occupies. Officials while expressing approval in warm general terms of the conference are most reticent about discussing proposals definitely.

KATO NOW HAS SAY

The one man with authority and responsibility to speak for Japan in this situation is now in Washington and he is Kato. Had Hara not been assassinated, Kato's decisions would have been subject to his approval, but with the late premier removed, there is no member of the Takahashi government that can say him nay.

All officials from the Premier Takahashi down are looking to Kato to handle the disarmament problem for Japan. Within the Navy Department official reticence is especially marked and it is evident that the navy's responsible head is now in Washington, not Tokio.

Vice Admiral Ide, vice minister of the navy told the Ledger—China Press correspondent today Kato expressed the sentiment of the whole Japanese Navy when he said that the proposals were drastic but good and acceptable as a basis for discussion. He said that Japan probably would make counter proposals, but only in minor points since the essential fairness of the American proposals was evident here.

Other discussion in Naval circles indicated the points on which most objections might hang. One high officer stated that it would be a great pity to scrap the Battleship Mutsu as she is really completed and her trials were finished last month and is to be commissioned within a month.

That is the general opinion of Japanese navymen who feel that it would be unfair to exclude a vessel really completed. They would like to suggest as a compromise that the Mutsu be included among Japan's ten capital ships and that the Settsu, an old battleship, be dropped instead.

A large element in the Navy also want Japan to have 12 to America's 18 capital ships, making the proportion three to two in America's favor, that being the ratio the Naval authorities decided to ask prior to Kato's departure.

There is excellent reason to believe that Japan's counter-proposals will include a request for the abolition of fortification in the Philippines, Guam, Hawaii, also in Singapore since the question of Pacific fortified bases is considered in Tokio to be of equal importance with the numbers and tonnages of fleets. The absence of bases in Far Eastern waters where a large American or British naval concentration is possible is worth many capital ships.

Also there is the opposition on the part of the ship-building interests which face certain ruin if the proposals go through.

Hughes Lays Down Their Duty To Delegates At The Conference

(U.S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Washington, Nov. 12.—Secretary Hughes in his address today accepting the permanent Chairmanship of the Conference on limitation of armaments spoke in part as follows:

"Permit me to express the most cordial appreciation of the assurances of friendly co-operation which have been generally expressed by the representatives of all the invited governments. The earnest desire and purpose, manifested in every step in the approach to this meeting that they should meet the reasonable expectation of a watching world, being the reflected resolution of the opportunity, is the best augury for the success of our Conference.

"The President invited the governments of the British Empire, France, Italy and Japan to participate in a conference on the subject of limitation of armaments, in connection with which Pacific and Far Eastern questions would also be discussed. The opportunity to limit armaments lies within their grasp.

"It was recognised, however, that the interests of other Powers in the Far East made it appropriate that they should be invited to participate in the discussion of Pacific and Far Eastern questions and with the approval of the five Powers an invitation to take part in the discussion of these questions has been extended to Belgium, China, the Netherlands and Portugal.

MUST MEET WORLD HOPE

Japan Accepts With Amendment

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, Nov. 16.—A New York special telegram to the Asahi dated November 15 states that Admiral Baron Kato has accepted the U. S. Secretary of State, Mr. Hughes,' naval proposals subject to amendment regarding the standard of displacement tonnage.

Hughes Lays Down Duty To Delegates To Conference

that we should meet that expectation without unnecessary delay. It is, therefore, a question of the limitation of armaments.

"This, however, does not mean that we might postpone the examination of the Far Eastern questions. These questions of vast importance press for solution. It is hoped that immediate provision may be made to deal with them adequately and it suggested that they may be found to be entirely practicable through the distribution of the work among designated committees. Some progress to that end ought to be achieved without one subject being treated exclusively of the proper consideration and disposition of the other.

"The proposal to limit armaments is not a new one and we are admonished by the futility of earlier efforts to put an end to these incessant armaments and to seek the means of warding off the calamities which are threatening the world.

THIS IS SUPREME DUTY

"Such is the supreme duty which I today impose on all, an obligation that his Majesty the Emperor of Russia proposed to the Conference which was to occupy itself with this great problem and which met at The Hague in the year 1899. It was seven years later that the Secretary of State of the United States, Mr. Elihu Root, in answering a note of the Russian Ambassador suggesting in outline a program of the second Peace Conference, said:

"'The Government of the United States therefore feels it to be its duty to swerve from its policy, asking the liberty to propose to the second Peace Conference as one of the subjects for consideration the reduction or limitation of armaments in the hope that, if nothing further can be accomplished, some slight advance may be made towards the realisation of the lofty conception which was the attitude of the Emperor of Russia in calling the first Conference.'

ONLY GERMAN BALKED

"It is significant that the Imperial German Government expressed itself as absolutely opposed to the question of disarmament and that the Emperor of Germany threatened to decline to send delegates if the subject of disarmament was to be discussed. But by reason of the obstacles which the subject had encountered, the second Peace Conference at The Hague, although it made notable progress in provisions for the peaceful settlement of controversies, was unable to deal with limitation of armaments except by a resolution in general terms. This was the fruition of eight years. Although the effort was clearly perceived, the race in the preparation of armaments was wholly unaffected.

"We have been in the greatest war of history and we are now suffering from the unparalleled loss of life, the destruction of homes, the economic dislocation and the widespread impoverishment which measures the cost of victory over the brutal precession of military

DOUMER WAITING BRIAND'S WORD IN BANQUE CASE

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Nov. 15.—A semi-official statement reports that M. Doumer, the Minister of Finance, addressed the Finance and Foreign Affairs Committees yesterday on the subject of the Banque Industrielle de China. Referring to the suggestion that the instalments of the Boxer Indemnity still owing to France might be utilised in order to save the Bank, he declared that he was unable to act in M. Briand's absence. The Committee therefore decided to adjourn. M. Marsal, the Finance Minister in the Leygues Cabinet, declared that he was solely prompted by national interest in his efforts to interest powerful bankers to save the Bank.

Ex-President Poincare said that telegrams from China emphasised the difficulties caused by the failure of the Bank together with the moral and material prejudice France had suffered.

He declared that it was absolutely necessary to consider means for safeguarding French influence and prestige in the Far East.

The appointment of Mr. Yu marks a departure from old custom as he is a Mohammedan of Turkish origin. This concession to the Mohammedans is expected to remove some of the dissatisfaction that has been shown in the past towards the absolute Chinese control over the Provincial Assembly in Sinkiang.

America Ready To Meet And Beat Navy Builders

(Special To The China Press)

Washington, Nov. 15. — The United States government holds a powerful trump card which may be used in the negotiations to limit naval armaments in the Washington Conference.

America will play this card, if it is necessary, in an effort to force the great powers of the world to put on the brakes in the frantic race for naval supremacy.

If any nation blocks an agreement for limitation of naval armaments, America's trump card will be placed on the table, as follows:

"If you are determined to continue the ambitious building of colossal navies, the United States will do likewise, and beat you at your own game. For every keel of a battleship you lay, America will lay one, or will lay two keels, until the United States navy is the most powerful in the world."

There has been a feeling in certain authoritative quarters here that foreign capitals may have the impression that the United States is forced to limit its naval construction, almost regardless of what action the other powers take, because of pressure from a tax-burdened populace.

NO LIMIT FOR U. S.

The American government is ready and the American navy is ready to give this country the most powerful naval machine in the world, if a continued race for naval sea-power is forced on the world by some power, or powers, in the Washington Conference.

Both the British and Japanese navies are today superior to the American navy from several important standpoints.

The Japanese navy has in commission the largest and probably the most powerful battleship in the world at present, and is building more of them, and making them more powerful.

HAS LARGEST NAVY

Great Britain today has the largest navy in the world, and is about to start on the construction of four new capital ships which in many respects are to be more powerful than the ships of any power.

The United States today stands second in naval strength, with Great Britain first, and Japan third as follows:

	Gt. Britain	U.S.	Japan
Battleships	26	18	6
Battle Cruisers	6	0	4
Total	32	18	10

Vessels now under construction or authorised and which are in projected building programs, the projected ships being in parentheses:

	Gt. Britain	U.S.	Japan
Battleships	0	9	3 (4)
Battle Cruisers	4	6	4 (4)
Total	4	15	7 (8)

Vessels in three navies after the completion of present authorised construction and the projected building program of Japan, the projected ships again being in parentheses:

	Gt. Britain	U.S.	Japan
Battleships	26	27	9 (4)
making a total of 13 for Japan
Battle Cruisers	10	6	8 (4)
making a total of 12 for Japan
Total	36	33	17 (25)

It would be the end of 1927, and more probably a year later, before all this building could be completed, if Japan's projected ships are constructed. The United States hopes to complete its present building program for battleships and battle cruisers, which is the 1916 program, and is all now under construction, in 1925, but this may be delayed until 1926. Great Britain probably will complete her 4 new battle cruisers, which have been authorised, but are not yet actually under construction, some time in 1925. The three battleships and four battle cruisers now under construction or authorised in Japan probably will be completed in 1925 or 1926.

JAPAN BIG PROGRAM

Japan's is the most ambitious building program of any of the three great naval powers. It is called the "eight-eight" program. This means that Japan's policy is to have eight first-line battleships and eight first-line battle cruisers in her navy, all within eight years of age, on the theory that this period is as long as a capital ship is truly one of the first class. If this is to be a permanent naval policy of Japan, and that is the understanding here, it will keep the Mikado's empire building up its armada at almost a break-neck speed, and will force the United States and Great Britain to do likewise.

There is some uncertainty here as to whether Japan's projected ships referred to in these tables have yet been actually authorised.

PLANS FOUR CRUISERS

A recent development in naval expansion which has caused some concern to the American Navy Department is Great Britain's decision, made subsequently to the calling of the Washington Conference, to build four new battle cruisers, of the improved Hood type. According to the information which has reached here, these vessels will be superior to the six battle cruisers which the American navy is now building under the 1916 program, in tonnage, length, better armor protection and possibly in number of guns.

These improved Hoods are to have a displacement of more than 45,000 tons, and may be 47,000 or 48,000 tons. They will be 900 feet long. The guns of these vessels will be the same as on the American cruisers now building, 16-inch, but the British cruisers probably will have ten or twelve of these powerful guns, while our ships have only eight 16-inch, 50 caliber guns.

The American cruisers will be superior in speed. They are to make 33½ knots, while, according to the advices reaching here, the British ships are to have a speed of 31 or 32 knots. The American cruisers have a displacement of 43,500 tons, and are to be 874 feet long.

Japan now boasts the largest battleship in the world. She is the Negato. The Negato has a tonnage of 32,800, a length of 660 feet, carries 8 16-inch guns, and has a speed of 23½ knots. The nearest approach to the Negato in the American navy is the battleship Maryland, recently commissioned. The Maryland is the first ship in the United States navy to carry 16-inch guns. She has a displacement of 32,600 tons, length of 600 feet, and a speed of 21 knots.

Havoc Wrought In Shanghai By New Stock Exchanges Is Bared In Police Reports

Tremendous Losses Suffered, Careers Blasted And Tragedies Are Incidents Of Recent Get-Rich-Quick Era

That the formation by wholesale of stock and brokerage exchanges by Chinese of the International Settlement and of the French Concession has wrought widespread havoc not unmixed with tragedy is pointed out plainly in a portion of the monthly police report which appears in the current issue of the Municipal Gazette. Some form of 'blue sky measure,' as such laws are called in the United States, is seen as a necessity to avert disaster that may develop out of unrestrained speculation.

The report points out that losses of over a million have been incurred through these new enterprises, that hitherto conservative citizens have gone speculation wild, many careers have been blasted and several suicides have grown out of the get-rich-quick era.

THE REPORT

The full report on this subject is well worthy of close perusal. It follows:

"During the month of July when the excitement over the licensing of rice shops in the International Settlement had somewhat subsided, a number of Chinese mooted the idea of establishing a rice stock exchange. In the earlier part of the year a small number of exchanges had already been formed. Some were in process of formation when the movement suddenly gathered an impetus which infected persons engaged in almost all lines of trade. Within a surprisingly short space of time, in the International Settlement and French Concession exchanges were organising in various quarters.

"The Chinese Ministry of Agriculture and Commerce, becoming aware of what was going on, caused a notification to be issued requiring all these establishments to be registered with the Ministry. The situation gave rise to many anomalies, one of which was that officials, ex-officials and other people who had never in their lives been engaged in trade of any description associated themselves with exchanges connected with goods and products of which they knew nothing.

"The sale of promoters' shares was reported generally long before the scrip was available and before the exchange had been finally formed. Instances were reported wherein a number of people who had bought suffered considerable loss in consequence of a public announcement that the application of an exchange for permission to register had not succeeded.

"The speculation mania took deep root, and persons, who, in their saner moments, would never have consented to part with their cash unless it was for some safe and profitable investment, were attracted by the glamor of the large fortunes which were said to be made. They speculated and in so doing began 'to lose all sense of risk,' as the Native Bankers' Guild in Nantao put it, in a circular issued to its member banks.

"Fortunes did appear, according to report, to have been made but mostly by certain people connected in some way with the formation of the establishments. On the other hand, not a few families were ruined, and cases of suicide and attempted suicide occurred. The situation presented a strong temptation to employes in positions of trust to make their fortunes by what appeared to them to be a few simple transactions with the temporary loan of their employers' money.

"Numbers of employes absconded from Shanghai after having embezzled sums of money, more or less large, which they had lost in speculation. A rough estimate of the total amount of money thus reported places the figure well over $1,000,000. In addition, men who had hitherto been respected for their integrity and regarded as being strong financially severed connexion with their acquaintances and disappeared from Shanghai after incurring liabilities which they were unable to meet.

"The Chinese Bankers' Association, realising, as employers, the seriousness of the situation, held a meeting on Sept. 3, the outcome of which was the issuing of a circular notice to its members requesting them to prohibit their employes from dabbling in exchange or having anything at all to do with brokers.

"It is almost imperative that action should be taken as soon as possible to bring these establishments under control and there appears to be no better way of doing this than that of furnishing them with a licence to which safeguards in the shape of conditions can be attached.

"This plan has been adopted in the French Concession, which is a very strong argument in favor of applying it on this side of the Yangkingpang, as the two Settlements must obviously in licensing always follow a common policy. There are moreover, grounds for believing that the existence of these exchange which relate to provisions may, at some time or other, bring about a crisis in the food supply of the population of the Settlements with all its accompanying dangers."

Council at Peking saying that, as he is to undertake the defence of his frontier against the Southern forces, he has entered into an arrangement with General Shan Hung-ying, one of the former leaders of the Kuangsi troops, to organise a fresh brigade of Kuangsi men, which will be stationed at Tayuling, on the Kiangsi-Kuangtung border.

FAILS TO WIN CHOW

Peking, Nov. 13.—Judging by the present attitude of General Chow Hung-ti, commander-in-chief in Hunan, the efforts of Canton to win him over to the side of the Southerners have failed.

General Chow is said to be working in full co-operation with General Wu, whom he has invited to Changsha for the purpose of discussing joint measures against the Southern forces.

General Wu throughout the recent uncertainty regarding General Chow has expressed confidence that the latter would not co-operate with Dr. Sun Yat-sen and, as usual, appears to have had information not known to the public. General Chow Hung-ti's loyalty to the North makes the outlook for the South much less promising.

CHAO WANTS YOCHOW

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, Nov. 13.—General Chao Heng-ti, the Hunan chief commander, is protesting against the stationing of northern troops at Yochow, which is now under the control of General Chang Fu-lai, one of the four trusted generals of Wu Pei-fu, according to information reaching Hankow from Changsha. Yochow is properly a Hunan city both from geographical and political reasons, and its subjection under the influence of northern troops is a loss which the Hunanese cannot tolerate, so contended Commander Chao.

A meeting was held in Commander Chao's yamen at Changsha on November 11, when the Commander disclosed the provincial policy of Hunan province with regard to peace negotiations with the Peking government. He stated that press agitations should be resorted to in order to regain Yochow from the clutches of northern commanders.

General Chao also made public at this meeting that he was quite sure the Canton expeditionary forces would not march against the Northern government, and from the language of Chao's address, it is surmised that he had probably received a confidential telegram from Chen Chiung-ming to the above effect.

A MOTHER OF FIFTEEN CHILDREN.

Yet Feels Young At Seventy.

Mrs. Charlotte M. Mather is the proud mother of fifteen children. Her age is seventy, she looks sixty and says she feels younger than she looks. How she attained to ripe old age so gracefully Mrs. Mather explained not long ago at her home, 11A Beacon Street, Summerville, Mass. This charming old American lady has not always had the good health she now enjoys as will be seen. She said:—

"Some time ago I had a severe attack of pneumonia. Instead of gradually regaining my strength after the disease left I seemed to stand still. I began to think that I should always be a burden on those about me. I had severe headaches and attacks of extreme weakness when it was impossible for me to move. My appetite was poor and there was a burning sensation in my stomach after eating. Sometimes this was followed by a piercing pain.

"I was sure that I had a good many years of health before me and when the prescribed medicines failed to help me I bought a bottle of Dr. Williams' pink pills. I had heard of the remedy from friends. The first bottle helped me so much that I continued taking the pills until I had completely recovered my health. I no longer have headaches, my appetite is good and the stabbing and burning pains have left me. I feel now that I shall live almost as long as my grand father who was a hundred years old when he died. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Williams' pink pills for I know that they are an excellent tonic."

Write today to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai for the free booklet "Building Up the Blood." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' pink pills, or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price, $1.50 per bottle, or $8 for 6 bottles, post free.

NEW RIVER BOAT TO BE LAUNCHED THIS AFTERNOON

Steamer Mei Ren To Replace Lost Steamer Meishun In Upper Yangtsze

The new river steamer Mei Ren of the American-West China Navigation Company is to be launched at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the yards of the New Engineering and Shipbuilding Works. This vessel replaces the company's steamer Meishun which was lost in Nikoutan Rapids in the Yangtsze Georges above Ichang last April.

To convey guests to the launching this afternoon the tender Vulcan will leave the Customs Jetty at 2 o'clock. Mrs. B. C. Haile, wife of the President of the American-West China Navigation Company is to christen the new vessel as it starts down the ways.

The new steamer is especially constructed to cope with the whirlpools and swift water of the Yangtsze gorges. It is 200 feet in length by 32 feet beam and will have a draft of six and a half feet fully loaded. The engines to be installed will be capable of developing 2,000 horse power. The Mei Ren is to go into service at the opening of navigation on the upper Yangtsze in the spring and will run between Ichang and Chunking.

The principal stockholders of the American-West China Navigation Company are the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the Raven Trust Company. The officers of the Company are: President and General Manager, Mr. B. C. Haile; Vice President, Mr. F. J. Raven, Vice President, Mr. J. F. Dolan; Secretary and Treasurer, Mr. H. E. Gibson and the directorate is composed of Messrs. Haile, Raven, Dolan, Gibson and W. S. Fleming.

It was learned yesterday that a robbery in which certain essential mechanical parts were removed from the vessel while it rested on the ways might have prevented today's launching. The thieves, two Chinese, however, were arrested and their plunder was recovered. The two, Lien Chung-yen and Kan Ong-liang, were tried in the Mixed Court yesterday and were sentenced to serve three and two months imprisonment respectively. They had taken an injection pipe and portions of the ship's steering gear.

Public Health Is Good, Says Department Report

Warning Is Given And Means Of Prevention Of Scarlet Fever Are Explained

Excerpts from the current report of the month of the Health Department, published in the Municipal Gazette, are of particular interest as they indicate that the state of the public health is good.

The report sets forth that cholera virtually has disappeared and dysentery has markedly decreased and it continues:

"A few cases of small-pox and scarlet fever occurred, indicating the urgent necessity of vaccination, and of taking special precautions against diseases transmitted by finely sprayed droplets from nose or throat, of which scarlet fever is one. The campaign of vaccination against small-pox was begun with vigor, and will be continued till the summer of next year.

"Scarlet fever is usually most prevalent in the autumn, winter and spring. The primary cause is not known with certainty, but it is undoubtedly microbial, and paves the way for secondary septic infections which may be most virulent, causing the serious complications and frequent high mortality. This ranges from 0 percent to 35 percent. Last year in Shanghai it was 16 percent of cases among foreigners.

"The most important and most frequent mode of transmission is by finely sprayed infected droplets from nose or throat—the mode of direct contact; obviously, articles contaminated with infected secretions, as cups, spoons, handkerchiefs, sucked pencils or toys, may also spread the disease.

"Scarlet fever, like diphtheria, is readily transmitted from person to person, but not so readily as measles or small-pox.

"The public is warned against buying damaged tinned goods at auction. On several occasions recently, at the request of the auctioneers, goods of this kind have been examined in the Municipal Laboratory and found to be in a condition dangerous to health."

France Will Cut Officials 50,000

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 15.—The Chamber of Deputies today continued the financial debate. It first heard M. Raiberti, who showed that thanks to French sacrifice, the situation did not justify pessimism, if Germany fulfilled her obligations. M. Herriot then rose to suggest practical means of economy.

The Council for National Defence met this morning at the Elysee under the presidency of President Millerand.

The Finance Commission has unanimously adopted and amendment to the Budget, for the reduction in 1922 of the number of officials by 50,000.

MR. STITT SPEAKS

Mr. G. R. Stitt, Manager of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, the next speaker, complimented the Chinese-Foreign Famine Relief Society on the work done during the past 15 months and said that as he is now re-elected treasurer he wishes the audience to know that he is ready to cash their checks, the fatter, the better.

Mr. C. Y. Sun who has given much of his time and money and whose influence contributed much to the success of the famine relief work during the previous drive, briefly outlined the nature of the relief work done in North China. Mr. Sun stated that 50 millions of lives were affected in the last famine. The North China Famine Relief Society, for which he could speak authoritatively, saved 6,000,000 lives and expended on the work $25,000,000. He felt there was no North or South when famine relief was in question. One Chinese took $500,000 to one of the famine-stricken districts and left without revealing his identity. A Shanghai man, one Mr. Ziu, took $100,000 to Anhui. Dr. Peill of Shaochang—near Techow—was in such a hurry to rush grain to the famine area that he personally helped the coolies to load the cargo and injured himself so that he had to undergo an operation. He concluded by saying:

"Now the famine is at our door: our brothers and sisters are perishing. We as Chinese must first help generously. Our foreign friends will surely be ready with their co-operation."

Mr. W. E. Souter, Chairman of the Distribution Committee, expressed gratification over the formation of a central organisation which will be able to handle all relief work with efficiency.

A representative of the Hupeh Tuchun and Civil Governor was the last speaker. He said:

"Don't forget Hupeh needs your aid just as badly as the other provinces. In 1919 at a cost of one and a half million dollars Hupeh rebuilt its own dykes. These have given away before the floods and the poor famine victims with winter staring them in the face are in danger of perishing."

General Ho raised his cup to the health of all present and the banquet was brought to an end.

The Commissioner of Foreign Affairs has sent a formal letter to the Consular Body of Shanghai asking them to adopt measures in the International Settlement similar to those adopted by the French Municipal Council regarding the raising of house rents because, the letter says, on account of the high standard of living the tenants cannot submit to the demands of the landlords.

The American Machinery and Export Company started an action to recover G. $7,350.03 less Taels 2,380 in the Mixed Court yesterday against the Lau Nyi-long hong, alleging that the Chinese firm agreed to purchase 1,000 pounds of fuchsine large crystals and later refused to take delivery of 800 pounds. The American company admits that Taels 2,380 was paid on the transaction. American Assessor R. P. Tenney and Magistrate Tsang are hearing the case.

Chinese Barbers Threaten Strike

Chinese barbers to the number of 5,000 have threatened to strike for an increase of ten percent, according to reports current yesterday. In Chinese tonsorial establishments it is said that the price of a shave is six coppers and for a hair cut ten cents and the contention of the workers is that this is not enough to meet rising costs of living, particularly as the workers say that they receive only thirty percent of gross receipts, with an average wage of $10 a month.

Customs Official Attacked By Chinese After Seizing Opium

Yesterday some seven Chinese attacked Mr. J. Anderson, an official of the Customs, as he landed at the Chingwanktao Road jetty with 56 pounds of opium that had been confiscated. It is believed that the assaulters were disgruntled at the action of the Customs official in confiscating the stuff, and but for the timely arrival of a Sikh constable the hooligans would have mauled Mr. Anderson badly.

RUTH, DEFYING LANDIS, PLAYS OUTLAW GAMES

Opens Barnstorming Tour At Buffalo; Faces Suspension; Calls Rule Unfair

New York, Nov. 1.—Babe Ruth, in defiance of major league regulations and Judge K. M. Landis, Baseball High Commissioner, played with his exhibition team at Buffalo, yesterday, defeating the Polish Nationals 4 to 3 and knocking out a home run himself just to show that he was in earnest.

Judge Landis intimated that he was in earnest, too, in his determination to enforce the rule of the National Commission that world's series players are not to participate in post-season games. He would make no exceptions, he said yesterday, and the punishment would not be "a light fine."

Ruth made a statement in Buffalo last night in which he vigorously defended his action in playing, saying that when he had fulfilled his season's contract to the letter he could see no reason why he should be prohibited from earning a legitimate income after the season had closed.

He declared that he thought it manifestly unfair for men playing on the championship teams in each league to be denied the right to play after the series, when there is no restriction on members of the second and third place teams in both leagues, all of whom receive a share of the series receipts.

MEUSEL AND PIERCE PLAY

Bob Meusel is in the same boat with Ruth and so is Bill Piercy, the Yankee pitcher. Carl Mays and Wally Schang, who had signed up with Ruth for the barnstorming tour that was to last throughout the winter, taking in Southern cities and Havana, refused to fulfill their contracts after talking the situation over with Judge Landis.

Ruth maintains that he and his comrades signed contracts for the barnstorming trip in good faith and in ignorance of the rule against barnstorming. He declared he felt himself morally obligated to fulfil the spirit and letter of the agreement, especially as his contract with the New York American League club expired last Saturday.

"I am doing this with the full knowledge of what it may mean," said Ruth last night. "I believe I am right and that it is time a move of this kind was made for the ball players. The interests of organised baseball are served when a man gives them his full effort and carries out every phase of his contract for the season's period. When the bell rings after the world's series why should I or any other player be kept from playing the game? In no other business or sport in the

American Crew Sets New Henli-Shanghai Record

Reduces Time 5 Hours 15 Mins. On Record Which Stood Six Years

The longest distance rowing record of the Shanghai Rowing Club, the 56 mile pull from Henli to Shanghai was broken twice in the last week by the younger Club fours. The mark has stood at 13 hours flat since 1915. It was reduced November 6 to 10 hours, and cut down further on Sunday last to the short time of 7 hours 45 mins.

The American four composed of Schlobohm, Ericson, Phillips, and Neprud, at present are the record holders for the Henli-Shanghai distance. The mixed four, Moller, Switzer, Schmidt and Ericson cut the old mark to 10 hours on November 6.

The real record makers, the American four, were coxed by the Chinese No. 1 of the Rowing Club. The boat's crew went up the river Saturday evening in a house boat and started on their record smashing trip from the regatta waters at 7:30 a.m. next day. The team rowed in periods of two hours, with five minute rests on the oars, for refreshments. The shell reached the Rowing Club pontoon at 3:15 p.m., just 5 hours 15 mins ahead of the old time.

Ericson who figured in both of the week's record breaking trips, has incidentally figured in every Henli-Shanghai row that has yet been staged. He was a member of the former record holding boat, with E. Strassman, C. O. Schafer and C. V. Jensen; he with H. N. Olsen established the 11½ hour record for a pair in 1916 and he rowed in both crews in the last ten days, each of which set new records.

Jockey Commons Injured In Fall At Tientsin Races

Mr. A. Commons, the well known Shanghai and Tientsin jockey, fell from his pony in the last race at Nankai last Saturday and sustained a fractured shoulder blade. Meteor, the pony Mr. Commons was on, continued the race and finished with the other ponies. Mr. Commons will be unable to use his arm for four or five weeks according to reports from Tientsin.

Fire Fighter Captures National Decathlon Title

Dan Shea, New York's versatile athletic fire fighter, rose to the heights of a national figure in amateur sport at Pershing Field, in Jersey City, when he won the A. A. U. championship Decathlon contest, open to all athletes in the United States. Shea's victory was the realisation of the ambition born years ago to win an all-around competition involving a national title. His nearest approach to his goal came in the national all-around championship at Pasadena, California last Summer, when he took second honors. Shea who wore the colors of the Pastime A. C., in the Decathlon event, rolled up the impressive score of 5,849.308 points in the five events contested. He led Patrick O'Connor, a clubmate, who finished second, by more than 200 points. His grand total for the ten events which made up the full program, was 9,068.397 points.

BIG SWINDLE OF JAPANESE BANKS REPORTED HERE

A story of a gigantic swindle of the Yokohama Specie and other Japanese banks by two Japanese merchants, one of whom was arrested in Shanghai, was in circulation here yesterday. The amount said to have been obtained from the various institutions is variously placed at from Yen 2,000,000 to Yen 5,000,000 and is declared to have been obtained by means of forged letters of credit purporting to have been issued by the Tokio office of the Specie bank.

At the local branch of the bank yesterday officials admitted that such a swindle had taken place but declined to give any details or to comment upon the amount of the fraud, beyond stating that the figure of Yen 3,000,000 quoted in the local Chinese press is incorrect.

The fraud is reported to have been perpetrated by a Kyoto gold shop master named Iwabuchi and one other man. The latter, it is said, came later to Shanghai where he was taken into custody by the Japanese authorities, being then sent back to Japan to stand trial. The local foreign police know nothing of the occurrence.

The Specie Bank's losses are claimed here to be covered by securities hypothecating property of the swindler.

world is such an unfair, one-sided rule tolerated.

"Another point I make, and intend to stick to, is that when a man fights and wins the right to play in the world's series, why should he forfeit the right to play after the series when other men, star ball players, who also share in the world's series receipts because their clubs finish second or third, are permitted—indeed are urged—to play in winter league such as those on the coast? It is apparent the rule is wrong somewhere.

"I want to say that I feel I am right in my action, have principles and reasons to fight for, and I have taken this step believing these principles are worth fighting for. I am not worrying about what Judge Landis may do. I think the public will be with me.

Cabinet Is After Pan Fu's Accuser

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 13.—It is reported that a petition recently reached the President impeaching Mr. Pan Fu on the alleged ground that he had received a bribe of $400,000, from Mr. Chang Ling-hua to place the latter in charge of the Salt Smuggling Prevention Bureau.

The petition bore the name of Mr. Chang but as it reflected as much on him as on Mr. Pan Fu doubt existed as to its authenticity, and the document was referred to the Cabinet for inquiry.

Mr. Chang has since denied all knowledge of the petition and efforts are being made to trace its origin. The object of the petition was undoubtedly to discredit both Mr. Pan Fu and Mr. Chang Ying-hua.

Poor Kiddies Fast For Three Days To Aid China Delegates

The Chinese government exchequer is in sad state of collapse. The delegates to the Washington Conference, according to reports, are worrying about their pay. In this impasse who steps into the breach, with promises of contributions toward the expenses of the representatives sent to lay China's case before the assembly of the powers? The bankers, the commercial men, the big business men of the country? Not so that you could comment on it. It's the youngsters of the Chingkiang Orphanage and Poor Children's Home who step to the fore with a donation.

By fasting for three days the children of the institution mentioned have stacked up the sum of $11. This amount they have forwarded to Mr. Sze Liang-tsai, managing director of the Shun Pao, with the request that it be applied toward the expenses of Dr. David Z. T. Yui and Dr. Monlin Chiang, "people's delegates" to the Disarmement Conference.

WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS HAMPERS DAIREN PARLEY

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, Nov. 15.—A special telegram from Dairen dated November 14 states:—The Dairen conference was reopened at 3 p.m. today, Mr. Bliuher, the Minister of War and commander-in-chief of the forces of the Chita Government also participated in the conference.

Views were exchanged over the questions regarding the necessary procedure for the discussion of a formal convention, the withdrawal of Japanese troops from Siberia, the special committee meeting, and the participation in the conference of the delegates of the Soviet Government.

The Russian representatives still adhered to their contention that the evacuation of Japanese troops should be carried out at the same time as the conclusion of an agreement as to the fundamental principles of the conference.

With regard to the fishery problem, the Russian delegates asserted that a special committee meeting should be held, in which the delegates of the Soviet Government be allowed to take part, while the Japanese representatives advocated the deliberation first upon the general principles of an agreement in accordance with the original plan. Thus the conference was adjourned at 6 p.m. without reaching any definite conclusion.

Fitch of Hangchow under the auspices of the American University Club, at 9.15 o'clock Friday evening at the Union Club, corner of Hankow Road and The Bund. The lecture is the second of a series on China which has been arranged by the American University Club for its members and their friends.

Dr. Fitch's lecture will be illustrated by stereoptican slides taken by himself. He has traveled extensively over China and has a fine collection of photographic views. One journey into Szechuen and to the boundaries of Thibet was taken on behalf of the American National Geographic Society, which devoted a number of its monthly publication to the pictures taken on the trip.

A request has been made by the committee in charge of the lectures that members of the Club and their friends, both men and women, note that the hour of the lecture is 9:15 sharp.

"Health Better than it has been for Years."

Our portrait is of Mrs. WOODROW, of 56, Robinson Road, Tooting, London, England, whose husband writes:

"My wife has suffered very badly for the past four or five years with Piles, being unable to sleep at night or get any relief during the day. She tried several advertised remedies, none of which did her any good. Some three weeks ago she thought she would try 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and before she had taken half a bottle she was better, and by the time she had finished the second bottle she was quite cured. She can now sleep well, eat well, and get about her work, and her general health is better than it has been for years." In a further letter some eight months later Mr. Woodrow writes: "I am pleased to say that since my wife's cure of Piles in September, 1918, there has been no sign of return of the trouble."

CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE, by reason of its remarkable blood purifying properties, can be relied upon to give speedy relief and lasting benefit in cases of Eczema, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Boils, Pimples, Eruptions, Piles, Glandular Swellings, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gout. Pleasant to take and free from anything injurious. Of all Dealers. Ask for and see you get

Club Women Hear Interesting Talk On Home Decoration

Two interesting and instructive talks on home decoration and arrangement, with particular reference to the effect upon children, were given yesterday morning at the Carlton Cafe at the regular meeting of the Mother's Department of the American Woman's Club.

Mrs. L. E. McLachlin told the members that harmonious colors and pleasing arrangement of furniture have a great effect on people, tending toward culture and refinement and artistic appreciation, and therefore they are worthy of most careful and scientific study. She took up color schemes and explained how the various shades may be sued and combined to produce the most restful and aesthetically pleasing effects.

Mrs. J. B. Sawyer spoke on the "creation of a room," with special attention to paper tints, furniture harmonisation, lighting and general comfort.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Van Buskirk, who invited all members and all women interested to attend the "at home" to be given by the Executive Committee at the home of Mrs. R. T. Bryan, Jr., 25 Route Ghisi on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 30.

The next regular meeting of the Department is to be held on Dec. 7.

Arrest Armed Men Believed Members Of Robber Gang

Two Chinese found in possession of arms and believed to be members of an organised gang of robbers were arrested in a Woochang Road teashop by a search party headed by Detective Inspector Prosser and a searching squad Tuesday night and appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday. They were ordered held in custody for two weeks while the police endeavor to round up others of the band.

One of the men was found to be carrying a loaded 32-calibre revolver while the other had a dagger hidden in his gown.

Expect Big Crowd For Woman's Club Tea Dance Today

A large crowd is anticipated at the tea dance to be held from 4:30 to 7:30 this afternoon at the Astor House under the auspices of the American Woman's Club Social Department. Palm reading by Miss Lily Amaryllis Jackson, a colored fortune-teller, will be one of the features of the affair. The proceeds of the tea-dansant are to be turned over to the American School. Mrs. Jackson Hammond is in charge of the reservation of tables.

Wedding

EITE—HELMS

A pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the Holy Trinity Cathedral, when Miss Mary Boswell Helms was married to Mr. Arthur Eite. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Jefferson Davis Helms of Charlotte, North Carolina, U. S. A., and Mr. Eite is the manager of the British American Tobacco Company at Hangchow and only son of the late Mr. Thomas Garrick Eite, of Hamilton Drive, The Park, Nottingham, England.

The Cathedral was prettily decorated and the service was conducted by the Very Rev. Dean C. J. F. Symons. The bride, who was given away by Mr. C. S. Peacock, was attended by Mrs. Linn as Matron of Honor. Mr. A. W. L. Oliver acted as best man.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin trimmed with pearls and the matron of honor's dress was of georgette crepe over orchid crepe satin. The bride's going away dress was a blue serge.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Shepherd's reception rooms where a large number of friends of both bride and bridegroom assembled to congratulate the happy couple. They left last evening by train for up-country.

The Cotton Trust Bank of Shanghai, Ltd.

The object of this Bank, as was announced at the Promotors' Meeting, was to stabilise and develop the cotton industry by placing before the cotton-yarn merchants the special facilities for conducting their business. The subscribed capital of the Bank is $5,000,000 and a quarter of this sum has already been paid in full.

With the approved regulations governing the Industrial Bank of China as precedent, the regulations of this Bank were drawn up and submitted to the Ministry of Finance for its approval.

A rescript has now been received from the Ministry of Finance ordering certain fundamental alterations in our regulations on the ground that the regulations approved in the case of the Industrial Bank of China were specially sanctioned by the President upon the special application of the Ministry of Finance and as such are not applicable to any other bank.

At an extraordinary meeting of the whole body of the shareholders held on November 9, the following resolution was passed:

WHEREAS the aims and objects of this Company, which has been formed after a careful survey of the existing needs and potential developments of the cotton-yarn industry, have not received the sympathetic consideration of the Ministry of Finance and WHEREAS the said Ministry of Finance has insisted upon various changes in the regulations of this Company, which changes could not be effected without defeating the main objects of the enterprise as were embodied in our original scheme, we as shareholders of the Cotton Trust Bank of Shanghai, Limited, acting in pursuance of Section 3 of Article No. 213 of the Ordinance of Commercial Associations, hereby resolve that this Company be and it is hereby dissolved.

A vigorous protest has been filed by this Company direct with the Ministry of Finance.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

November 16, 1921

Spot bar silver was unchanged and forward up 1/8d. in London yesterday.

The New York price is unchanged at 67 cents and the London-New York cross rate has declined to 396½.

The official quotations here today were unchanged from yesterday with the exception of the Yen rate which was dropped to 65.

The market today opened firm, as high as 3/9⅝ for cash Sterling and 3/9⅛ for December being done.

Gold Dollars were done at 76 for cash and 74½ for December.

However, during the course of the morning, speculators became buyers, and as there were few bills offering today, rates eased off considerably, so that at the close the best obtainable for Sterling was 3/9¼ for cash and 3/8⅝ for December.

The best for Gold Dollars was 75 for November and 74 for December.

The market closed easy at this level.

India and China bought a small amount of forward silver in London yesterday and the market there is quoted as being quiet and steady.

Hankow Market

The British Chamber of Commerce at Hankow write as follows in their weekly circular dated Hankow, November 9.

FINANCE AND MONEY MARKET

The price of silver in London has fallen ⅝d ready and forward during the past week, the respective quotations on the 8th instant being 39⅝d and 39d. China both bought and sold while India seemed more inclined to buy. The market was quoted steady at the decline. The stock of silver in Shanghai on the 3rd instant was estimated to be Tls. 22,022,000 and $24,450,000 Large shipments to that port are afloat, but the silver will all be required before China New Year. In sympathy with silver the local exchange market has been easier and rates have declined 1d, the official current quotations being T. T. 3-10d and 4 m.s. L. C. 4-1½d for ready delivery. The New York London cross rate on the 7th instant was 3.94¼. Chinese market rates.—Shanghai Tls. 98, Local Dollars 70, Native Interest 25½d per annum.

EXPORTS

Demand from America for wood oil and gallnuts is fairly good, otherwise there is little doing sesamum seed and tallow are considerably weaker, also wood oil for forward delivery.

IMPORTS

Piece Goods.—The market is dull with practically nothing doing. Money is tight and clearances poor. Prices show a downward tendency.

Yarn.—Prices continue their downward path, 16s. having fallen about Tls. 12 per bale since 1st November.

Exchange Market

Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand write as follows in their exchange circular for week ending yesterday:

Exchange:—The London price of Silver at 38⅝d. is 1d. lower than last week. Our rate for T.T. on London remains unchanged at 3s. 9d., probably due to the placing of silk bills on France to the extent of about Fcs 20,000,000 on the market. These bills were taken at reasonable rates and in the absence of further cover our Market closed with an easier tone. A considerable increase in our stocks of silver is expected in the next two months.

Our stocks of silver are reported as follows:

	Sycee and Bar Silver Tls.	Chinese and Mexican Dollars
Estimated value in Tls. 40,856,000 as against Tls. 54,600,000 held at this time last year.	24,966,000, an increase of Tls. 1,532,000.	$22,070,000, a decrease of $700,000.

Dr. Reinsch On China And The Pacific Problem

[Condensed from an article by Prof. Paul S. Reinsch, former United States Minister to China].

THERE can be no assurance of permanent peace in the Pacific so long as the forces which make for war are allowed to continue at work in China. At present the situation there is full of material for mutual suspicion and for constantly increasing friction. If the nations are to be permitted to stake out claims, the squatters will eventually come to blows.

Unless some very definite action is taken to prevent the growth of this feeling there is no way to avoid a conflagration. But it is within the power of the nations which will gather to discuss these problems to remove the cause of danger by taking definite action in regard to the questions of economic preferences.

The actual partition of China has not yet begun. The fact that certain nations claim "spheres of influence" has often been misunderstood to mean that the Chinese nation has actually surrendered its sovereignty over certain sections of the country. "Spheres of influence," however, are nothing more or less than claims on the future.

The essential need of China before the conference is to secure definite assurance that all further development of economic preferences and influence will be prevented. No matter how loudly the governments assembled around the conference table may proclaim that they are seeking no political rights and that they seek the preservation of China's national integrity, yet if they determine to hold and develop such economic preferences the political unity of China will soon become a mere shadow. The question is not that of formulating a new international policy in regard to China, but of making effective a policy already solemnly adopted and frequently declared. All of the powers concerned have affirmed their support of the general principle of the open door. Whether they now positively support application of that principle to every situation—there is the vital question. The great task of the conference is not to bring about the adoption of a new China policy by the powers assembled there, but to secure from them a definite, unequivocal application of the old in all specific cases where it has been overlooked or ignored in practice.

The economic mastery of a locality is equivalent to its political mastery. This is particularly true in the matter of railroads. Though railroad development is an economic activity yet if one government should own and operate a railroad within the territory of another a most pernicious mixing of economic and political activities would result and, in the end, the political would doubtless predominate. This fact makes the Japanese control of the railroad in Shantung province the crux of the whole Shantung question. With the exception of the Japanese-owned South Manchurian railroad and a short French line in southern China running from Annam into Yunnan province, the Shantung railroad is the only line in China owned by a foreign power. Other powers have loaned capital for railroad building, but in every other case the ownership and operation has been in the hands of the Chinese.

The Japanese maintain persistently that they have no designs upon the political sovereignty of Shantung province or of China. Their argument, therefore, is much the same as though a foreign power, having occupied the state of Pennsylvania, should assert its willingness to relinquish all claim to political control of the state, asking in return merely the city of Philadelphia and the Pennsylvania railroad system. For China to negotiate with Japan in regard to Shantung is equivalent to the surrender of her claim to the railroad. All discussion of the sovereignty of Shantung is beside the point. Japan could only have secured a sovereignty over that province by capturing it from China and even the Japanese make no such claim. The troops along the railroad are there for military occupation.

It is only in the Kiao-Chau leasehold of about 200 square miles that the question of sovereignty enters in at all. In any negotiations with Japan over the return of Shantung the essential question—that of the railroad—would not be touched. The Japanese insist that China should be willing to consider Shantung on the basis of a partnership arrangement, the two nations controling the railroad of the province together. But the experience of the Chinese with such joint enterprises has been far from reassuring; they know who would actuall control. Meantime, through prolonging the military occupation, Japan is attempting to get a firm hold on the railroad and to utilise it as an economic force with which to turn the entire province into a Japanese sphere of influence.

Japan's attempt in Shantung differs from what other powers have from time to time done in China in that she is seeking to own and operate a railroad in the interior of the country, and to claim a general economic preference. The issue has been befogged, as the Japanese have suggested that in return for yielding up their "territorial rights" in Shantung they should receive certain definite economic privileges. As a matter of fact, Japan has no territorial rights whatever, even in Manchuria, much less in Shantung. It is the growth of claims for economic privileges that constitutes the real menace to the sovereignty of China.

In view of these facts, therefore, it is essential that, in addition to supporting China at the coming conference in regard to the control of her railroads, the conference should see to it that the general agreements concerning the equality of economic opportunity in China should be given actual force, which they have hitherto lacked in certain specific cases. This could be done by an agreement among the powers to the following effect: "In view of the fact that the principles of equal opportunity and Chinese integrity have been repeatedly asserted in formal international agreements, each nation will engage itself not to use any existing or future special agreements to claim for its nationals economic preferences of any kind in any part of China."

Such an agreement would render obsolete certain claims now still maintained, which are based on informal letters written by Chinese officials to foreign representatives. For example, in 1914 a letter was written by the Chinese minister of foreign affairs to the French minister expressing joy that a frontier incident had been amicably settled: in order to promote general good feeling the Chinese official concluded that if, hereafter, foreign capital should be needed for the internal improvements of Kwangsi province, French capitalists should be first appealed to.

If these two questions, that of the control of the Shantung railroad and of the growth of local economic privileges, are not cleared up and settled there is certain to be unending trouble. In addition China may demand a greater degree of tariff autonomy in order that she may have a more adequate national income, and also she may ask for the abolishment of extraterritoriality. But these, however important they may be, are not the main issues involved. Regardless of a smoke screen of reiterated generalities, there must be an actual commitment to the policy of eradicating special preferences and interests in China if anything of significance is to be accomplished. It is well, before the conference, to beware of the watchword: "Give up political rights and retain economic privileges." At present there are no political rights to give up, while to retain economic privileges is the surest way to bring in political consequences.

Disarming For Peace

For The Conference To Decide What Is Due And Undue Equipment For War

BY ALBERT BUSHNELL HART

All the world is always in favor of disarmament, provided it is exercised by competent people upon other people. If "due diligence" could become the magic words by which the lightnings of the Alabama controversy with Great Britain were dissolved half a century ago, why may not "due disarmament" be the motto and the guide of the approaching Washington conference, in which the greatest world statesmen shall forever settle what is due and what is undue by unanimous agreement?

The process of disarmament has been many times set in action in past history. The Romans called it subjugation—"going under the yoke"—but thought it a poor method when applied to their own army after the battle of the Claudine Forks. Napoleon loved disarmament—when applied to Italy and Prussia and Holland. The English twice disarmed the Danes by seizing their fleets in time of nominal peace so as to prevent their aiding Napoleon. Disarmament of the weak by the strong has been terribly familiar. What the world is now in search of and hopes to bring about at Washington is something resembling the disarmament of the strong by the weak. Furthermore, the work will not be done at all unless it includes some process by which disarmament shall be ended with fast colors so that the disarmed shall remain disarmed indefinitely and yet be satisfied.

The need of disarmament is acute, because at this moment there are more soldiers and sailors prepared for hostilities in the world than at any time in its whole history, except during the active period of the World War. Nearly three years after the armistice the world is still in arms. Japan, China, Russia, Poland, the Balkan powers, Hungary, Bohemia, Turkey are directing, under the colors or available at a few days' notice, forces which have to be supported by the diminished number of workers. It is not enough to have lost 30,000,000 people in the awful struggles of the last seven years; Turks and Greeks are at this moment cutting each others' throats; and all Eastern Europe experiences the dangerous tranquility of the whirlpools at the gorge of Niagara, circling about and gathering strength for another tremendous rush.

MODERN WARFARE MENACE

The need of some kind of disarmament is the more agonising because modern wars are so hideously destructive both of men and the products of civilisation. How many American soldiers and sailors were actually under fire during the six months on the western front? Certainly not much above 600,000, and the casualties were 300,000. Outside the ranks, no European war in a hundred years put so many non-combatants into the zone of fire, either at the front or in cities bombarded by aircraft and long range guns.

The world is just beginning to realise what another great war means in the obliteration of great cities and the destruction of millions who are absolutely non-combatant. We in the United States have always had the advantage of being without land neighbors with the strength and preparation to pour destruction across the boundaries. Nevertheless the modern black art of the chemist, the ordnance expert and the aviator may be expected to overcome such trifling obstacles as an ocean 3,000 or 4,000 miles wide. Isolation, distance, sea power are losing their efficacy. The United States shares in the dangers of mankind.

American military men and diplomats are alike aroused to these dangers. The hearts of the President and the other statesmen who will represent the United States in the conference are quickened by the common responsibility. They must see more clearly than those outside the official circle the immense difficulties of any plan that would protect the United States. First of all, it is perfectly clear that no plan of effective disarmament can go through which does not include the United States, any more than there can be any permanent and vital League of Nations of which the United States declines to be a member.

That is one reason why the movement for a world conference has proceeded from the White House. For the United States is at this moment the most powerful nation in the world in resources, in available man power, trained by western civilisation, and in the willingness to spend prodigious sums of money on military and naval preparations. The United States is the only great nation except Japan which is not at this moment practically on a paper money basis. It has just shown an unsuspected power to build up a fighting force in a year and to back it up with extravagant and wasteful supplies and support which, however, has done the business. If the United States comes out of the conference convinced that it must depend wholly or solely on force, then every Latin American power that thinks it physically possible will eventually arm; Japan will compete in armaments; and no European power will dare to unbuckle its sword.

ABILITY TO ARM QUICKLY

In one kind of disarmament the United States is an adept. Ever since the Colonial wars of nearly two hundred years ago, we Americans have relied upon improvising a military force after the war began. That is why there were so many defeats of the English by the French. In the Revolution, the War of 1812, the Mexican War, the Civil War and the Spanish War of 1898, the United States was disarmed when the war began; and though successful in nearly all these struggles, sacrificed hundreds of men in training raw recruits by throwing them at the enemy. In every war, including that of 1917-18, Providence, with habitual kindliness to the United States, allowed time enough to get the forces organised before they came to grips with a capable enemy. The United States has now reduced its army to a point where it is barely sufficient for garrisoning the dependencies and protectorates, and giving protection to the Governments of State and nation. We must never forget that the ultimate support of civil order, of life, of property, of constitutional government is the regular army. When policemen strike and militiamen fire over the heads of the mob, it is Uncle Sam's men who stand in the background, ready to break up those lawless organisations which would otherwise speedily blossom into riot, insurrection and revolution. No disarmament can safely reduce the land force below its present numbers.

By common consent the most hopeful field of possible disarmament is in the navy. A hundred months ago the American navy was weaker than the British or the German, and in ships and tonnage not much above the French. Even the Japanese, when our fleet sailed into the Harbor of Yokohama in 1908, paid us the exquisite Oriental compliment of sending a fleet of equal numbers and approximately equal power to meet and escort the visitors. Today the once proud German Navy is annihilated, surrendered without firing a shot by a nation which boasts that it gave up the war without defeat. France is out of the race. Great Britain and Japan are the only powers whom terms must be made for common naval disarmament if disarmament there is to be.

MUST SETTLE JAP QUESTIONS

The idea that the Japanese desire war with the United States or would fight on any issues that have yet arisen is a myth; but the Japanese will in the end fight if diplomacy is conducted with them upon the basis that they are an inferior and immoral race, not big enough to associate on equal terms with Europeans and Americans. That does not mean that Japanese immigrants must be admitted; but that the two countries must come to some common ground on the whole question of admitting aliens and allowing them to acquire land and civil rights. The Japanese are, however, determined to exercise an influence in Eastern Asia and to occupy territory and assert special advantages of trade which cannot be reconciled with the present relations of the United States and of European powers in Eastern Asia.

The British naval position is different, because it is clear that nothing but the superiority of the British fleet prevented the invasion of the British Islands and the consequent destruction of the empire in the World War. The crux of the whole disarmament question is therefore whether such guarantees and such distribution of military and naval power shall be agreed upon as will safeguard the tight little island of Great Britain and at the same time protect the connection of the home land with the outlying parts of the empire. The British are a very sturdy and tenacious people; but it is a hard dose for the world to swallow, if it must in any way guarantee the integrity of the present empire with its populous Asiatic colonies in which no Englishman or Englishwoman of the governing class seeks to settle down and share the fortunes of the people.

Naval disarmament is practicable in the sense that a navy cannot be built by stealth; hence if the disarmament agreement is broken by any one, the world will speedily know it. This is not the case with the most modern and most lethal arm of warfare. H. G. Wells some time before the war wrote a fanciful account of the capture of the last atomic bomb from a dissolute sovereign who was about to make himself master of the world. Such a running to earth of the bomb maker and the bomb carrier is an absolute necessity if there is to be air disarmament—and, that means, if there is to be any permanent disarmament. Here is where the bad little nations can get in their work. We are rapidly approaching a point where airships can be built anywhere where there is wood, steel, aluminium and fabrics; can be built almost in secret and in great numbers. The World War has shown that there never will be any more Thermopylaes or Morgartens or defenses of Leyden—a heroic host of high-hearted men resisting the legions of tyranny. No little power can build warships that will be a danger to any big power with a respectable defensive navy. But within a few years, Turks and Berbers, Arabs and Philippine Moros, Mexican and Haitians may be bursting loose with wasps' nests of airplanes, bringing destruction against Budapest or Rome or Shanghai or New York. Unless that danger can be removed by a general consensus of nations, the disarmed will be at the mercy of the newly armed.

The whole thing is keyed in with a movement toward what President Harding, before his election, spoke of as "an understanding" among nations. If there is anything definite in the attitude of the American people toward foreign relations it is that the United States will not enter into any offensive or defensive alliances involving a pledge to protect any great power against any other great power. The treaty negotiated by President Wilson with France at the Paris negotiation was a nullity before it was signed, because it proposed to pledge the United States to war against a nation in case it collided with the safety of a third nation. Not even for the sister republic of France can the Americans be indeed to promise warships and troops for future service in Europe.

AMERICA AND THE POWERS

The chief obstacle to an international understanding is the strong feeling in the United States that Great Britain and France and Italy and some of the smaller powers are insisting upon an extension of their borders, and calling upon the rest of the world to guarantee the safety, not only of their capitals and provinces, but of a far-flung empire. We have the imperial bee in our own bonnet so far as the Caribbean is concerned; but we will not undertake to insure other people's empires.

Meanwhile in Central Europe, in Asia Minor, in Southern and Eastern Asia, the live coals of the war are still glowing. The one thoroughly disarmed power—Germany—is likely to return to commercial prosperity before any of her neighbors. The pressing need for disarmament now is among the belligerent little nations caught between the Western powers and Russia. Here is the opportunity for applying the principle of disarmament through world action. If Poland and Czechoslovakia and Hungary and Jugoslavia and Servia and Bulgaria and Greece and Turkey and Arabia can be put on a peace basis, there is hope of establishing a habit of disarmament which will last through the shocks of the future. "Due disarmament" must begin where arms are clashing.

Full Text Of Soviet Plan To Pay Romanoff Debt

(Rosta News Agency)

Moscow, Oct. 22.—The following is the text of the declaration sent by Mr. Chicherin, the Commissar of Foreign Affairs, to the Governments of the Allies, recognising the pre-war debts:

"Notwithstanding that the decision reached at the Brussels Conference of the Powers—which decided to grant credits to Russia on condition that she recognises the pre-war debts—has not been communicated to the Soviet Government, the Soviet Government, in view of the starving masses of her people, is willing to ignore the details of diplomacy and declares that the proposition of recognising the old debts coincides with the intentions of the Soviet Government.

"In declaring this the Soviet Government draws the attention of the toiling masses and citizens of all countries to the acts of the Brussel Conference, which has made the recognition of the old debts a condition for granting credits, in spite of Lloyd George's declaration in his speech in the House of Commons, August 16, that the exploitation of the Russian famine by compelling Russia to recognise her old debts would constitute a diabolical design.

"However, completely sharing the opinion of the President of the United States of America that the establishment of full peace and the successful struggle with the devastation of the world are impossible without the participation of Russia and her 130 million people, and also that the re-establishment of Russia's economic life is impossible without the economic cooperation with other countries, the Soviet Government from the very beginning of its existence has made the economic cooperation with other Powers the fundamental aim of its economic policy.

"The restoration of Russian industries is in the interest of Europe and America. The Workers' and Peasants' Government can accomplish this task better than any other government. The policy of the Soviet Government is directed by the interest of the widest masses of people. Personal and covetous interests of individual groups of capitalists do not hinder the restoration of people's economic life.

"With the object of satisfying the interests of the entire working population, the Soviet Government grants the private initiative and capital the possibility of co-operation in the exploitation of national resources by re-establishing private trade, private property, concessions and leases of large enterprises. The Soviet Government grants the foreign capital sufficient profit to satisfy its interests and to induce it to participate in the economic life of Russia.

"Recognising the Tsar's debts the Soviet Government is removing the obstacles in the way of recognising Soviet Russia and of furthering the economic relations with the rest of the world."

Then the declaration proceeds to state that notwithstanding the fact that no revolutionary government in the history has ever recognised the debts of the overthrown government, the Soviet Government is ready to do this for the sake of the lives of millions of starving children and adults and in order to satisfy the demands of petty French creditors, provided the creditors will now grant favorable conditions ensuring the possibility of carrying out the terms. The conditions are:

"The cessation of threats of military invasion of Soviet Republics and the Far Eastern Republic, and the guarantee of inviolability of their sovereign rights and territorial integrity. With the purpose of concluding a general peace and recognising Soviet Russia, the Soviet Government proposes to convoke as soon as possible an international conference for discussing the demands of both sides.

"Pointing out that attempts to overthrow the Soviet Government during the four years of its existence have utterly failed and that a new intervention will lead to aggravate the situation of the people in Russia and Europe, the Soviet Government expresses its conviction that the result of its offer will bring about the regulation of economic and political relations between Russia and other Powers in the near future."

NEW CITY HAS STARTED WHERE RAILWAYS CROSS

(China Press Correspondence)

Suchowfu, Kiangsu, Nov. 1. This city is rapidly becoming a great railroad center. A recent visit to the headquarters of the chief engineer of the eastern extension of the Lung Hai Road reveals the fact that the construction of the road eastward as far as the Grand Canal has been contracted for and early summer will probably see trains running that far.

The road will cross that famous waterway at a point about twelve miles north of Yaowan on the canal and about 49 miles due east of Suchowfu.

According to the survey Haichow is about 129 miles east of Suchowfu, but the terminus of the road will be the deep water harbor, about 25 miles beyond Haichow. The exact location of the harbor has not been determined upon. Five foreign engineers are now making the final surveys.

Six other foreign engineers are supervising the construction work along the line. The engineering as well as the financing of the enterprise is entirely under Dutch control.

The junction of the Lung Hai and the Tientsin Pukow roads occurs just east of this city, both roads using a union station. A new city is springing up almost overnight in the district lying between the railroad station and the city wall. A building boom is much in evidence.

DOLLAR AND YEN MUST UPHOLD GOLD STANDARD

(Eastern News Agency)

Washington, Nov. 15.—In the course of a reception given at the Banking Club of New York in honor of the party of Japanese business men who are now in New York, Mr. A. Barton Hepburn, chairman of the board of the Chase National Bank made a speech, in which he stated:

"The maintenance of the gold standard system, which is in high credit with the world, rests in the main upon the shoulders of the United States and Japan, who have now enough reserve funds of specie to withdraw the total amount of paper-money in circulation.

"The Japanese Government bonds have become one of the most popular issues of the world just as have the American exchequer bonds.

"In my opinion, until the Powers who are alien to the gold standard are in a position to free themselves from the state of affairs in which they are liable to over-issue bank-notes, the responsibility of maintaining the gold-standard system rests principally with an alliance between Japan and the United States."

Christians Told To Quit Cilicia Within 2 Months

French Wireless Through Reuter's

Paris, Nov. 15.—The Hellenic Government appears to be disturbed at the report which has not been published in Paris, that the Christians in Cilicia have been requested to leave the country before November 20, and has asked that the Christian inhabitants shall be placed under the protection of the French consuls after the departure of the French troops.

The Temps states that according to information received in Paris it is not exact that Christians have been requested to leave and that the period expires on November 20. The evacuation of Cilicia is to be effective within two months. The execution of the Franco-Turkish agreement guarantees that they can remain there without danger, it being understood of course that the Greeks there are in a peculiar situation.

Moreover there can be no French consulates in Cilicia until a treaty of peace has been concluded and ratified by the Allies and Turkey. The French Government has sent three experienced agents to the spot, namely Mm. Lepissier, Laporte and Sandford, who accompanied M. Franklin Bouillon.

They will go to the principal towns of the country, as M. Bouillon did, and will be personally responsible for watching over the Christian population. France thus shows that she is continuing not mere verbal propaganda for the protection of the minorities but also actions and sacrifices.
